

Narara Valley High School Support Unit invested in a snail farm at the beginning of 2009, to support our new Agriculture program. The Science department allocated the Support Unit an area of the Ag plot to use for plant and animal production. Students collected snails from home to kick start our breeding and growing program. With the farm up and running the students are now involved in the feeding, watering, cleaning and soil turning. With the warmer weather approaching we have had to move our snail pen to a more suitable location, this proved to be quite a big job. Our students are enjoying the new experience and continue to learn more and more about snails. We would like to thank Snails Bon Appetite for their support.
